Religious Ramblings SECOND SUNDAY OF THE YEAR

Open Your Mind

JANUARY 15, 2012

fr David Rocks has been given something to think about by secularist students.

Walking around a university campus during 'Freshers' Week' I was approached by a group of students who asked me if I was a priest. Replying in the affirmative, they provided me with one of their leaflets and invited me to open my mind.

They were busy promoting meetings and discussions for atheist, secularist and other such groups. They wanted to achieve precisely the opposite to my goals; they wanted intellectual discussions in the heart of the University about the non-existence of God, about the futility of belief, about the irrationality of religion. In the heart of this institution of learning, we were rivals. My presence and what I hold dear was a challenge to them, as theirs is to me. They did not engage me in conversation, they did not abuse or insult me. They calmly and firmly issued their challenge: 'Open your mind'. I'm not one who will easily shy away from argument. So when the challenge was issued, I gave my retort: 'Open your mind'.

Thus we parted. But the brief encounter remained with me. What does it mean to be open-minded? Of course, I know what those young people were getting at. It isn't pleasant to be considered closed-minded, much less to be so. Our freedom is inhibited when our minds are closed.

This week's Gospel passage comes from the early part of the Gospel of St John. Jesus is gathering to himself people who believe in him, although their faith is not without its flaws. Even so, they are called and chosen to follow the Lord, freely. They will be tested, for at the end of his ministry, they will witness the rejection of the Lord by those whose hearts are hardened, those whose minds are closed to who he is. Aware that they are following him, the Lord turns to ask them, 'What do you seek?'

It is a question without words for an answer. It isn't that they don't know, it's more that they can't express it. So they ask him where he is staying, while he invites them: 'Come and see'. And what an invitation! They would see the Lamb of God enacting the drama of salvation. They would look into the heart of the Messiah.

The Lord's words are addressed to all of us: Come and see. Truly living our faith means staying close with Jesus and dwelling with him with an open mind, an open heart. Free of preoccupations and agendas of our own, he gently reveals himself to us and teaches us how to live in the truth. God calls us to greatness, but it is not a greatness of our own making. What truly makes us great in God's eyes is what he accomplishes in us.

The first disciples were weak and inadequate in many ways. Surely the Lord, when he appeared, could have chosen more talented, competent and dazzling men to spread the Gospel through all the nations. But he didn't. He chose ordinary folk and invited them to come and see. He asked them to open their minds, to open their hearts. He revealed himself to them, and that transformed them. They became humble preachers of the Gospel and carried out their task, undaunted. They did not hanker after self-glory or a sense of personal achievement. They had looked into the heart of God. They desired to make him known.

Those students I encountered in 'Freshers' Week' made me think. Not so much about arguments for the existence of God, but about the reality of the continuous challenge of the Gospel and how we must always seek the Lord with an open heart, an open mind. It is all too easy to be distracted by the quest for our own glory. So I'll pass on the challenge right here. Open your mind.

to the two universities in Leicester.*

from Nancy Greenfield:
a quick reflection on today's readings

From today's 1 Samuel reading:
Then Eli understood that the Lord was calling the youth. So he said to Samuel, "Go to sleep and if you are called, reply, "Speak, Lord, for your servant is listening."

Reflection:
Are we sleeping or awake? Do we sense Someone calling to us even when we are preoccupied with daily responsibilities? If we do, we might take Eli's advice and respond, "Speak Lord, for your servant is listening." Then we will do our best to listen within the daily events of our lives for the gentle voice of God waking us out of sleep.

So we ask ourselves:

How can I build a little more silence into my life
to hear God better?

Do I leave room in my prayers for listening to God?

GENERAL COMMUNITY ANNOUNCEMENTS

Religious Education for Children:

Our program continues on Sunday mornings, with a new-parent orientation offered on Sunday, Jan. 22. This program is for registered members of the community whose children are ages 3-13. It includes sacramental preparation. For more information, contact Teresa, tpleins@stanford.edu.

Spanish Mass:

Our next monthly Mass in Spanish will be celebrated on Sunday, January 22, at 3:00pm in the side chapel of Memorial Church. All are welcome to attend!

Sacrament of the Sick at Masses: (NEW DATE!!!)

We will celebrate this sacrament at all the Masses on Sunday, Feb. 12. Please invite anyone who wishes to receive the sacrament to attend this weekend. The sacrament is also available on an individual basis by contacting one of the parish priests.

New Training for Liturgical Ministers:

We welcome anyone who is interested in joining the choir, serving as lectors, greeters, altar servers, or eucharistic ministers. If you've managed to survive the first quarter at Stanford and can now think about the REST of your life, please contact Teresa, tpleins@stanford.edu. Service can take place around your schedule. The rewards for ministry are great--serving the Lord, deepening your bond to the community, making new friends!

Altar Servers:

We are looking for 4 students to help with the ministry of altar serving for the 4:30 Sunday Mass. You would be scheduled about every 4 weeks and trained for special liturgies such as Holy Week, in addition to the Sunday Masses. Altar servers arrive at 3:45 to help with set up. This is a vital ministry to our liturgies, so if you could help out once a month, we would be grateful. For info, contact Teresa, tpleins@stanford.edu.

Greeting Ministers Needed for 4:30 Mass:

We need 6 more friendly faces to complete our greeting ministry roster at the 4:30 Mass. This is such an important ministry, as we welcome all who pass through our doors on Sunday. It is very rewarding, as you have the opportunity to meet the face of Christ present in his people. You would be scheduled approximately every 3-4 weeks. For info, contact Iris Clark, iris.ccas@live.com.

Catholic Conference, March 23-25, 2012:

Discerning your call will give you a new perspective on your life and will help you to be more fulfilled in your work and in your relationships. Our parish is sponsoring a teaching team from the Catherine of Siena Institute in Colorado Springs to offer the introductory Called & Gifted workshop, which will be on Friday, and Saturday, (Feb 10 (7-9pm) & 11 (9am-4pm). Everyone is invited to participate. We will start registering after all the Sunday Masses beginning January 22. The workshop will be $60, with a $20 reservation fee due at the sign up.
