building community

a way of life

Sunday, October 18, 2015

Are you involved in a parish ministry? If you are not, you should be from a number of perspectives. First of all, in today's Gospel Jesus tells us, and it is something He wants us to understand and pursue as a goal, "For the Son of Man did not come to be served, but to serve." Service, giving of ourselves, is at the focal point of stewardship.

Genuine ministry is done for and offered for the assistance and aid of those to whom one is ministering, not for the advantage of the one who is ministering. When we join a ministry, whether it is liturgical, service, or spiritually-supporting, although we certainly receive advantages from it, the reality is that we should do it because of the lift and help we can give to others. The fundamental aspect is what we give, not what we receive.

Jesus was a man of great humility. It is this humility to which we need to strive. This is not simple in the society in which we live. However, as the noted author and apologist, C.S. Lewis, once said, "Humility is not thinking less of yourself, but thinking of yourself less." That is our tribulation as Christian stewards: to put others before ourselves both in reality and in our hearts. With God all things are possible.

Reading Group:

We will meet on Monday, November 9th at 7:30pm at the Gelpi's house on campus (870 Tolman Drive) to discuss J. F. POWERS's novel "MORTE D'URBAN." Powers was a contemporary of Flannery O'Connor and one of the best and most admired American Catholic fiction writers of the midcentury. "Morte D'Urban" is generally considered his masterpiece, and it won the National Book Award in 1963. It is a comedy, often hilarious, and at the same time a moving and compassionate exploration of American mores and the religious life. Come and join what promises to be a lively conversation.

Both grad and undergrad are welcome. Contact James at jcapps@stanford.edu for more info.

Mass of Creation

Marty Haugen

Ho-ly, ho-ly, ho-ly. Lord God of hosts. Heav-en and earth are full of your glo-ry. Ho-san-na in the high-est.

Bless-ed is he who comes in the name of the Lord. Ho-san-na

Apostle's Creed

I believe in God,
the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ,
his only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived
by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified,
died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again
from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God, the Father almighty; from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting. Amen.

The 2015-2016 Aaron-Roland Endowed Lecture:

Fifty Years of Catholic-Jewish Relations: The Gains and the Challenges. John T. Pawlikowski Professor of Social Ethics & Director of Catholic-Jewish Studies Program at Catholic Theological Union. November 5, 2015, Thursday, 5:00 pm Kehillah Hall - Ziff Center at the Koret Pavilion - Hillel at Stanford.
Free and open to the public.

The fifty years since the passage of Vatican II statement on interreligious relations NOSTRA AETATE the church's perception of its relationship with Judaism and the Jewish People has undergone a radical transformation. Christianity has come to recognize that its links with the Jewish tradition are indispensable for its own self-understanding. While not all points of tensions have been removed the relationship is now viewed through a fundamentally positive lens exactly opposite to the fundamentally negative lens that prevailed for centuries. The gains of the last half century will be highlighted and the remaining challenges will be put on the table.

Co-sponsored by the Department of Religious Studies and Stanford Humanities Center.
