building community

a way of life

Sunday, October 25, 2015

Most of us are accustomed to being called Christians — that is, followers of Christ. However, the Lord’s first followers were not called by that name at all. It was not until many years after His Crucifixion and Resurrection that the term Christian became popularly used. There is a subtle, yet profound reference and statement in today’s Gospel from St. Mark, a reading which presents to us the healing of a blind man.

After Jesus has responded to the blind man’s calls for mercy and healing, and the Lord has told him that it was his faith which had saved him, the Gospel tells us of the former blind man, “Immediately he received his sight and followed him (Jesus) on the way.” What is noteworthy about this is at that time and for the first years after Jesus’ Resurrection, His disciples were called “followers of the way.” They recognized Jesus as the way to live and the way to salvation. (Jesus stated more than once, “I am the way.”)

Thus, the man became not just healed but a follower of the Lord. Jesus healed the man on His way from Jericho to Jerusalem, where He would be crucified. The man most likely was with Him all the way. Would we be willing to follow the Lord on such a journey? That is exactly what He is asking us to do.

Apostle's Creed

I believe in God,
the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ,
his only Son, our Lord,
who was conceived
by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified,
died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again
from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand
of God, the Father almighty; from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting. Amen.

The 2015-2016 Aaron-Roland Endowed Lecture:

Fifty Years of Catholic-Jewish Relations: The Gains and the Challenges. John T. Pawlikowski Professor of Social Ethics & Director of Catholic-Jewish Studies Program at Catholic Theological Union. November 5, 2015, Thursday, 5:00 pm Kehillah Hall - Ziff Center at the Koret Pavilion - Hillel at Stanford.
Free and open to the public.

The fifty years since the passage of Vatican II statement on interreligious relations NOSTRA AETATE the church's perception of its relationship with Judaism and the Jewish People has undergone a radical transformation. Christianity has come to recognize that its links with the Jewish tradition are indispensable for its own self-understanding. While not all points of tensions have been removed the relationship is now viewed through a fundamentally positive lens exactly opposite to the fundamentally negative lens that prevailed for centuries. The gains of the last half century will be highlighted and the remaining challenges will be put on the table.

Co-sponsored by the Department of Religious Studies and Stanford Humanities Center.
